

La vella farga

UNIQUE ~ HOTEL

In a spring afternoon, walking near our farm house Cirera d'Avall, we did discover an old farm house, almost in ruins, that it stands out due some arquitectonic elements that caught our attention.

It was a cluster of things or circumstances, one fantastic and luminous day, one unique silence, one lush vegetation and one house what, still in ruins, showed a special charm. We were amazed with the farmhouse, and in a flash Martí has watched his dream working ... a small rural hotel.

La Vella Farga hotel, placed in a catalan farm house with a lot of history, because we found the first references in year 1036.

It is an isolated farmhouse that forms a whole unit, accompanied with a small edification that a foretime gave cover who helped in chores and farm work.

It has views to the four winds, with various buttresses that hold its thick walls. The different kind of stays, saloons, rooms, barns and cellars make it hospitality by itself.

In the farmhouse they cultivate dry products, mainly cereals, there was an orchard, the forest was exploding and cattle was breed. Formerly, and inside the farmhouse you can see some preserved remains, they transformed first subjects elaborating wine, pressing oil and they worked with iron to elaborate small items and instruments to help at the fieldworks and shoeing animals. Because of this job becomes the name "Vella Farga", there was a stay in the house where they worked with iron.

Now after an accurate rehabilitation, keeping elements and old structures combined with a touch of modernity and comfort at the same time, the farmhouse has been transformed in a small, charm hotel surrounded by nature, where silence, the calm and the comfort will accompany the sweet evenings of the guests.
